WHILE THE WEATHER IS FINE!

LATER FROM THE EAST.

[From the Sacramento Union.]

The following dispatches have been received since our last publication:

The Naval Expedition—A Rebel Account.

FORTRESS MONROE, Nov. 7th.—The executive officer of the Minnesota states upon information received by a flag of truce, that the fleet was disembarking Port Royal and meeting with a warm reception, the rebels having for some time been preparing for them. The information reached Norfolk by telegraph.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8th.—The following statements were made by passengers from Old Point:

They say troops have landed at Beaufort, S. C., where a bombardment has commenced. Reports state that one of our war vessels was disabled. What success attended the attack is not known. One report says that three Federal transports were wrecked. Commodore Tatnall is said to be in command of the rebels.

Preparing for the Naval Expedition.

Gentlemen from Charleston, recently in the city, say every precaution has been taken by Charlestonians to prepare for the naval expedition. The famous Washington Artillery had been sent to Bull's Bay, and soldiers and artillery sent to all points of danger along the South Carolina coast.

Steamers to Japan and China.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8th.—The Chamber of Commerce to-day adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to prepare a memorial to Congress, asking for the establishment of a line of steamers from San Francisco to Japan and China, to be suitably armed for the protection of the American commerce of the Pacific, and of sufficient speed to insure the rapid transportation of the mail.

Later European Intelligence.

News from Europe, received at the State Department, is eminently satisfactory. Communications from citizens at Paris state that Prince Napoleon is warmly interested in the cause of the Union. He says the rebellion cannot prevail.

Miscellaneous.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7th.—The trial of a number of persons for treason commenced at Baltimore to-day, before Chief Justice Taney and Yates. Some curiosity is manifested as to how Taney will act.

A letter to the New York Evening Post says General Stone offers to make an exchange of prisoners with the rebels. General Evans, of the latter, refers the matter to Richmond.

Count Piper, the new Minister from Sweden, had his first interview with the Secretary of State to-day, at the Department. His appointment to this mission is hailed with delight. He is a lineal descendant of Count Piper of Charles XII's time.

General Buel, it is thought, will be assigned the command of the Department of the Cumberland, to relieve Gen. Sherman, who will go to the Potomac.

Gen. Halleck has not yet been assigned a position.

Gen. O. M. Mitchell has tendered his resignation, and arrived at Washington.

Ex-Governor Daley, of Wisconsin, lately appointed Commissioner of the Indian tribes in Utah, departed on his mission to-day.

Gov. Morgan and Senator Harris have sent a dispatch to Gen. Wool, asking him not to resign, but to continue in his present position.

A special to the New York Tribune, dated Washington, Nov. 7th, says troops in all the camps are industriously drilled by brigades and regiments.

Rumors in Alexandria are to the effect that the rebel pickets had advanced so that their nearest outpost, which two days ago was fourteen miles distant, is now only eight miles from that city.

The President took to-day to the Treasury $8,300 dollars of his unexpended salary and invested it in 7 3-10 notes. This week a South Carolinian, a resident of Charleston, who has a brain as well as money, subscribed and paid for $10,000 of these securities.

Jacob M. Howard, of Michigan, has been appointed Minister Resident at Honduras.

McClellan has taken a house here and will soon be joined by his wife, who is now in Cincinnati.

The head-quarters of the army of the Potomac, are soon to be removed to more convenient and commodious quarters, not far from the White House.

The New York Times' dispatch says, "A highly intelligent and trust-worthy gentleman, who has been on duty in connection with the blockading squadron off Charleston, assures me that since Captain Marston left, five weeks ago, it is absolutely certain that no vessel has put to sea directly from that harbor—though there are narrow channels leading among the Sea Islands to Savannah. There were also two points on the coast of Florida, where small craft such as schooners of light draught and sloops have made their way out, but the watch of those passages is at last kept, they being impassable with large vessels."

The New York Herald's dispatch says that the division of General Blenker now holds the Columbia turnpike from Long Bridge to Mason's Hill, their pickets extending beyond Annandale, six miles above Bailey's Cross Roads. They have seen nothing of the enemy, except occasionally, a scouting party, for the past two weeks.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOV 19, 1861

The Secession Leaders in Oregon

Benjamin Stark is put forward by Governor Whitaker, to represent, in the Senate of the United States, the secession party leaders in Oregon. He well deserves the position from the Governor's hands. No man in any of the rebel States has spoken more decidedly against our government, and in favor of that of the rebels, than Benjamin Stark. Indeed he has publicly declared that we have no government—that there is no government but that of the confederated States—he publicly drank the health of Beauregard after the battle of Manassas—and has declared that his property was for sale at fifty per cent. of its value, and that he would go South and fight for the rebels.

This man is one of the leaders of the secession party in Oregon,—which Mr Stark's paper burlesques as the "Constitutional democratic party." And the same paper speaks of the democrats in the Eastern States as belonging to the same miserable secession faction of Oregon.

This is intended to deceive. There are no such democrats in the East as Benjamin Stark, and his adjuncts here. There, these men would find themselves in prison with the entire concurrence of Eastern democrats.—There, Democrats support the National Government with their utmost power in crushing the rebellion. There, before they indulge in hostility against the Government and Administration, they are determined to settle the question whether we have a Government and country.

The Boston Statesman—the great democratic paper of New England, thus speaks:

"The question that should engross all minds is, 'How can the country be saved?' All else should be subordinate to this—we despise mere party machinery and trammels when they come in conflict with our duty to the Constitution, to the Union, to the stability of our National Government. We believe with Douglas, that "whosoever is not prepared to sacrifice party organizations and platforms on the altar of his country does not deserve the support and countenance of honest people." With Isaac Davis, that "there never has been a time in the history of our glorious republic when all true patriotic and loyal citizens were more imperiously called upon to sacrifice all party organizations and platforms, on the altar of patriotism, and rally as one united band of brothers to sustain the Constitution and the Union, and crush out rebellion." With Joseph Holt, that 'what we now need is a patriotism which, obliterating all party lines and entombing all party issues, says to the President of the United States: Here are our lives and our estates, use them freely, use them boldly, but use them successfully' forbearing upon the graves of our fathers, and upon the cradles of our children, we have sworn that though all things else should perish, this country and this Union shall stand."

With Daniel Webster we say, "When the standard of the Union is raised, and waves over my head the standard which Washington planted on the ramparts of the Constitution, God forbid that I should inquire whom the people have commissioned to unfurl it and bear it up. I only ask in what manner, as an humble individual, I can best discharge my duty in defending it." With Hallett with Dickinson, with Dix, with Cushing and hosts of others who have spoken like them we consider the first and foremost obligation of every citizen of this trembling Republic is to defend and strengthen it, and that the only way in which this can be done is by vigorously sustaining the Government in its execution of a war not waged upon its part in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of any State; but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States, unimpaired." We echo the appeal of our struggling brethren in Missouri who implore that jealousies, bickerings and heart burns alike be buried in oblivion. Let politics and parties vanish; but let Whig and Democrat and Republican vie with each other in devotion to the Union, and in sustaining and honoring the man who will lead us on to victory over the fully armed and disciplined hosts of this infernal rebellion. It is my heartfelt prayer that this degree of unanimity and patriotism may soon secure our lives, our property, and our country.

We say with the Philadelphia Ledger: Here are our lives and our estates—use them as the Union requires. Only the Union—the whole Union—and nothing but the Union. We will not judge of personal ambition, and all feelings and actions that can possibly embarrass the power prosecuting the war and that peace can only be secured by a union of sentiment and effort in the loyal States that will convince the rebels that they never can receive a shadow of sympathy in their treason beyond their own borders."

That is the Democracy of the Eastern States. There is no democracy recognized there which would refuse to answer the question—Were you in the Senate of the United States, would you vote for appropriations to support our armies? Would you rejoice at the success of our army? No such Democracy can be found there as would invoke God to paralyze our national arms. No such democracy can be found there as would declare that we have no government, drink the health of Beauregard over our slaughtered troops—or sacrifice property that the traitor might go and fight with and for Southern traitors!

But this is the democracy of Benjamin Stark, and those who rejoice in his appointment as United States Senator, and who are seeking to carry this State for disunion at the next election.

Remains of Senator Baker.

At a meeting of citizens at Salem W. H. Rector, H. W. Corbett and J. R. Meeks, Esqs., citizens of this State, were appointed a committee to wait upon Mrs Baker, consort of the late Senator Baker, and endeavor to procure the privilege of removing Col. Baker's remains from San Francisco, to Salem, Oregon, for interment.

We consider the measure above indicated very proper. The remains of Senator Baker should be consigned to their resting place at the capital of Oregon.

The gentlemen above named, we presume, will attend to the high duty imposed on them by their fellow citizens. They may leave in the steamer so as to reach San Francisco by the 5th of December.

California News.

San Francisco, Nov 10th.—There is a rumor afloat that a party of rebels in this city have organized a plan to seize the United States surveying brig Fauntleroy and shoot out to sea in the fog some morning this week, with the view of converting her into a privateer. The report says that the party will be provided with fishing tackle, to disarm suspicion in the event of being interfered with. The revenue cutter Marcy has made for Rincon Point on the lookout for something.

A rumor was current yesterday that some Secessionists had attempted to blow up the powder magazine at the mouth of Mare Island Straits, and that a force had been sent to Alcatraz to protect the magazine. The report seems to be unfounded. Ten more were sent from the fort to the magazine yesterday.

A St. Louis dispatch dated November 7th, says:

There has been terrible fighting to-day between the Federal and rebel forces at Belmont, Missouri opposite Columbus, Kentucky. The Confederate forces crossed over the Mississippi and gave battle. According to reports, about 300 were killed on each side.—The Federal forces were commanded by Generals McClernand and Grant and the Confederates by Gen. Heathman.

Montgomery street has been crowded all day with people anxious to hear further news from the East.

Stockton, Nov 9th.—Early night some settlers attempted to dislodge a party who had gone on the claims opposite the Wigwam House, eight miles from Stockton. He was strongly fortified. They got a cannon from Stockton and commenced bombarding the man's house at sunrise. This morning after firing four times the Sheriff arrived and the artillery retreated. He fired four rifle shots through the portholes, breaking two fingers of one of his assailants. It is expected the fight will be renewed to-night.

Coso Mountains, Nov 10th.—A young man named Wm Vannest, brother to S. D. Vannest, who keeps a store on Butte creek, 40 miles from here, was fatally burned by the ignition of amphene while filling a lamp, the wick of which was burning. The accident took place at one o'clock last night, and he died at six this morning.

It is a military question now debated, where the immense armies now in the field in this country are to be quartered this winter. It is suggested that the United States troops near Washington may be made more comfortable inside their tents, by the introduction of small sheet iron stoves made for the purpose.

The Medical and Surgical Institute.

DR L J CZAPKAY is already sustained in a position which places him as well as its proprietor far above the assaults of envy, jealousy and personal malice. In the schools of France, the highest honors are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy with others an equally high position in the profession. Dr Czapkay is an illustrious example, shining light among the philosophical stars of this age in Europe, and Dr Czapkay has fully established himself in this country as a professor, which the Philadelphia College of Medicine conferred upon him by unanimously electing him to the honorary and unsolicited degree of Doctor of Medicine, in which he has become so great an expert that his services are regarded as the highest in the French Chirographers in the United States and his professional biography is published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor will continue his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Dupont, directly opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's San Francisco. We call particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper. Persons residing at a distance, wishing to lose no time in corresponding, please address Dr. Czapkay, as above, stating their letters and they will get immediate attention to such cases. Address L.
